LIGHT CONTRACT VETO CAUSES WARM TALK

Common Council Does a Lot of Discussing, but the Champions of the Contract by Adroit Move Put Off Action for a Week-Story of the Peppery Talk.

The mayor's veto of the street lighting contract, which was awarded by councils to the Lackawanna Valley Electric company weeks ago, was a fertile topic of discussion at last night's meeting of common council, thereby adding another chapter to the unique history of vicissitudes of this

Last night it was a meeting of swords of the councilmen who are to favor of the contract and the minerity opposed to contracts of more than a year's duration. At the last meeting it was the latter who went under over; last night the others saw defeat staring them, but they fought igainst the impending danger and by in adroit move, when pressed hard, hey succeeded in having the matter en over for another week, thus gain ng time and strength for the final

The adroit move mentioned was the naking and seconding of a motion to adjourn just as the matter was to be taken for a reconsideration. The chair was not disposed to entertain the motion to adjourn and didn't until there was a loud clamor of indignant protests from those who would reject the veto. But not until the clamor grew too loud to be unheeded did Chairman Collins' firmness give way. He put the motion, and council by a vote of 7 to decided to adjourn. This vote of 7 to 4 indicated also the vote on the veto-Chairman Collins, Nealon, Whitfield and Evans were in favor of the veto, while the expected votes against it were those of Loftus, Kennedy, Murphy. Thompson, Stone, J. H. Masters and John Musters. Of the latter there were only seven, while it required eight to pass the veto over the mayor's head. This explains the determined fight for adjournment; it was the salvation of the contract until the next meeting at least.

Mr. Pugliano was absent, but how his presence would have figured in the defeat or acceptance of the veto is a matter of speculation.

The discussion, which was prolonged until it became warmly interesting, was opened by Mr. Nealon, immediafter the meeting opened. He called for a report on the veto, which had been referred at the last meeting to the light, fire and water committee, with instruction to procure from the city solicitor a written opinion as covering the history of the contract from its granting up to the present Mr. Nealon said he was informed that one of the members of the committee had procured, and if this be true, which he believed it was, mittee, of which he, himself, was a member, to dispose of the matter with ics. No notice of meeting, Mr. Nealon ontinued, had been sent to the fireight and water committee and he was it a loss to explain why the chairman lid not call a meeting, particularly in siew of the fact that the opinion had een procured from the city solicitor. happened that it was J. H. Ma ers, the chairman of the committee, he received the opinion and of course was to him that Mr. Nealon's retarks were so pointedly aimed. Mr. lasters, appreciating this, arose and y way of reply and defense declared hat he had not had ample time to all the committee together, put purlosed doing so this week.

This explanation was considered by dr. Nealon as only an attempt at explaining and he renewed his attack. as it were, by reminding Mr. Masters that he (Nealon) met the former on the street several times and was in company also during the last two weeks, thus affording him idealey of this city, who was princiample opportunity to give notice of a pal of Richmondale school last year meeting if it had been Musters' inten-

Chairman Collins mildly rebuked him CONVENTION OF y declaring that in important matters like this one it was the duty of ommittees to act without delay.

The incident was hushed for awhile, until just about adjournment time, when Mr. Nealon, dissatisfied and visibly displeased with the course the matter had taken, called for and insisted that the committee dispose of I forthwith. The city solicitor's opinion was in the hands of one of the committee and it was only a question of a few minutes to consider it and present a report. During the discussion a notion to adjourn was made and sec onded among those in favor of the three years' contract. In the meantime Mr. Nealon, Mr. Evans and Mr. Whitfield were clamoring for a meet ing of the committee, while the others were crying more loudly for the putting of the motion to adjourn, claiming it had precedence. Chairman Collins was eluctant to put the motion. He was n favor of disposing of the veto, but here was such a cry from the other side that to escape from the quandry he put the motion to adjourn, which was carried by the vote of seven to our, as mentioned before.

The veto will be acted upon in the meantime and should come up at the next meeting, September 22,

The Martin Dougherty Fine.

Among the other matters discussed ong before being disposed of was the esolution remitting the fine of $10 morwed on Martin Dockerty by Alderman Delayan for an alleged violation of the ordinance against fast driving. The alderman was directed to pay the fine over to the city, then Dockerty an make an effort to secure it. There was a peppery discussion before this was decided on, during which Mr. Murphy spent some time in lauding

Must Lay Sidewalks.

A resolution was introduced directing. he city engineer to lay stone walks in ront of the porperties of the Kingsbury-Puller estate on Terrace street; Mrs. Russel, Wyoming street; Mrs. J. If the owners refuse o pay for the work the city engineer requested to issue levies against the properties. Non-compliance with the rders of the city engineer to lay walks. where it was directed led to the write ing of this resolution. It was referred to committee.

An ordinance for an are light on Powderly street, in front of the property of Patrick Rooney, was referred to committee.

THE SCHOOLS REOPEN.

Attendance at the High School About the Same as on the Opening Days of Other Years-Improvements Made About the School Building During the Year.

Yesterday was the first day of school for the fall term, and yesterday morning found the school rooms filled with carnest-faced children, who were ready for their tasks after idle days of the summer vacation, and busy teachers, who occurried themselves in arranging the classes and plauning for the work of instruction before them.

proper was 200 scholars, and according to comparisons made by they Superintendent Gare, the number was out the same as on the opening day ! last year. Reports had not been reeived last night from the schools throughout the city, but it was learned from other sources that the attendance was somewhat light. The lethergy that the semi-centennial celebra tions could be responsible for, migh eave had something to do with the chool children's staying at home. It is expected that by the fore part of next week lagging energies will be revived and there will be a full enrollment of the scholars. During the vacation period the school board did heaps of work in the way of improvements about the school grounds and in increased accommolations, and the happy result was atsurroundings about the schools that needed attention, and coundant room for pupils. There were numerous minor imcovements that went to make a comandable and creditable showing or the whole, but conspicuous among the stensive changes were those at No. No. 7, and No. 9 schools. No. 4 then it was the business of the com- grounds were not more than a barren vaste, but now it has attractive surroundings that are sure to awaken the out resorting to any dilly-dallying tac- artistic pride of the children, as nould be true of all school grounds. At No. 9, the grounds have been completely altered and the former uninvit. ing appearance has been delightfully ransformed. A new iron fence has been exceted about the grounds. The improvements at this school are not > suite (miched. The principal change at No. 7 school and a most important one, is the equipping of four tooms with single desks. This is a move that calls for more than passing notice, and the pelicy of the board to supply the schools with this style of desk will be commended for many reasons.
